SENATOR PAT HARRISON ELECTED PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE OF U. S. SENATE

He Will Preside in Absence of Vice President—Elected Over Opponent by Large Majority of Votes—Distinguished Recognition Worthily Bestowed.

Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, our own "Pat," was elected president pro tempore of the United States Senate Monday at the opening of the 77th Congress. While his nomination was predicted and his election assured, yet there was general satisfaction when the wires flashed the news of his selection over the Republican nominee, Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan.

Senator Harrison, not only by experience but by his well known ability and loyalty is well worthy of the honor and its distinction. U. S. Sen. T. G. Bilbo seconded the nomination of Senator Harrison to be president pro tem of the Senate. Senate Democrats unanimously re-elected Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky their floor leader, while Republicans again bestowed the minority leadership to Charles L. McNary of Oregon, late candidate for the Republican nomination.

Senator Harrison was chosen Democratic whip, succeeding Sherman Minton of Indiana, who was defeated for re-election.

Barkley, who described his party's conference as "very harmonious," was nominated by Harrison and was seconded by his Kentucky colleague, Senator Chandler.

Senator Byrnes is one of the finest speakers in the senate and his nominating speech was one of the finest pieces of oratory and masterpieces of thought on record, every word well deserving to Mississippi's illustrious senator, the beloved Pat Harrison.

CENSUS FIGURES ARE GIVEN

Coast Towns And Cities Show Increase—Bay St. Louis and Waveland Gain.

Figures released from Washington to The Sea Coast Echo this week give Bay St. Louis (1940) census, 4,138 over 3,724 in 1930; an increase of 414.

Hancock county's figures for 1940 are 11,328. In 1930, 11,415, a decrease of 87. This is due largely to the fact the county's timber during the ten years preceding was cut away and both sawmill and turpentine and other kindred industry as a result, were abolished. This lack of industry since the timber is gone has cut deeply into possibilities of an increased county population.

In Harrison county conditions are different. The towns of Biloxi and Gulfport have increased considerably. 1930 census gave Harrison 44,143. For 1940 the figures are 50,799. An increase of 6,656.

Jackson, the other Gulf Coast county, shows an increase of 4,628. For 1930 in 1930 to 20,801 in 1940. Here are some other interesting figures: The 1930 figures are listed first: Waveland, 663 and 768; Moss Point, 2463 and 3042; Pascagoula, 4339 and 5900; Pass Christian, 3004 and 3396; Long Beach, 1346 and 1499; Ocean Springs, 1663 and 1881; Wiggins, 1074 and 1341; and Pleasure, 4698 and 5120.

Combined figures of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, strictly incorporated limits are 4,906. With the population overhauling the corporate edges the population is easily 5000, an authority states.

Biloxi, Gulfport and Pascagoula are towns over 10,000 and these figures were given out some time back. Pascagoula, it is stated has had the greatest increase over cities in its class.

MERCANTILE STORE FOR BAY ST. LOUIS ANNOUNCED FOR 18.

Wilmer Thibaux to Open Store and Market in Reinike Building.

Wilmer Thibaux, who has been making his home in Bay St. Louis the past several years, an attaché of one of the local groceries, has leased the Reinike building, corner of Third and Sycamore streets, from George Reinike, of Long Beach, Miss., owner, and announces he will open there on Saturday, January 18, a general store and market, handling a full line of staple and fancy groceries, food supplies of all kinds and a market.

The building has been occupied as a feed store and is being vacated and generally renovated for the new occupant. The store will be known as "Wilmer's Cash Store," the new owner better known by his first name. He solicits the patronage of not only his friends and acquaintances but invites the public to visit and give his store a trial. There will be nothing but brand new goods, all fresh, select and prices will be within reach of all, believing, Wilmer says, that large sales and small profits are better than few sales and big profits.

FATHER CARRA VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR COVINGTON, LOUISIANA

Was Cousin of Joseph di Benedetto, of Bay St. Louis, and Warm, Personal Friend of the Very Rev. Father Gmelch Of This City—Was Pastor St. Patrick's at Orleans.

The death of the Very Reverend Canon Raymond Carra, pastor of St. Patrick's Church in New Orleans, was noted with deep regret in Bay St. Louis where Father Carra visited frequently, and was well known and beloved.

Father Carra was a cousin of Mr. Joseph di Benedetto, and the only male relative which Mr. di Benedetto had and the closest of unions existed between Father Carra and Mr. di Benedetto and his family.

Father Carra was also a friend of Very Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch and a number of the priests connected with St. Augustine's Seminary and his death will be keenly felt by many here.

Father Carra with another clergyman from New Orleans and his young nephew, were returning from Covington, Louisiana, when their car collided with another on the highway and Father Carra received severe injuries constituting a puncture of the lung and several broken ribs from which he succumbed in Hotel Dieu, to which place he had been brought after the accident.

The other occupants of the car each received injuries and were also brought to Hotel Dieu for treatment.

Father Carra was prominent in church circles in New Orleans, St. Patrick's Church located on Camp Street and in the business district of New Orleans being one of the largest parishes in the city of New Orleans, and of which he had been pastor since 1911. He resided in the rectory next to the church with his aged mother, Mrs. Dominic Carra.

Surviving the deceased besides his mother are one brother, Stephen Carra, and two sisters, Mrs. J. Altabas of New Orleans and Mrs. G. Grishaber of New York City.

Mrs. Grishaber had spent the holidays with her mother and brother in New Orleans and had just returned to her home in New York City when she was apprised of the death of Father Carra and returned to New Orleans for his funeral.

The body of Father Carra laid in state in St. Patrick's Church and the office of the dead was chanted for the soul of Father Carra.

Funeral services began on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's Church when Pontifical Requiem High Mass was offered by the Most Reverend Joseph Francis Rummel, Archbishop of New Orleans, and interment was in St. Patrick's Cemetery No. 3 on City Park avenue.

CATHOLIC WOMEN MEETING

District Members National Council of Catholic Women Assemble in Bay St. Louis.

The Bay St. Louis District of the National Council of Catholic Women met in the lounge of St. Joseph Academy for their first meeting of 1941 with Mrs. Katherine Edwards presiding, and the Rev. Father Lilly of Long Beach, Father Hayes of Pass Christian and Very Rev. A. J. Gmelch of Bay St. Louis in attendance. There were representatives at the meeting from Gulfport, Long Beach, Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Edwards opened the meeting with a greeting of good wishes to everyone for the New Year, and Father Lilly said the prayer.

Letters of thanks for the Christmas boxes sent to the orphan at D'Evereaux Hall and St. Mary's Orphanage were read by the secretary, Splendid charity and spiritual words reports were read by representatives from each of the four deaneries.

The president's message, telling of the conference held recently in New Orleans at the home of Archbishop F. R. Rummel dealing with the politics and progress of the National Council of Catholic Women in America and stressing the importance of Catholic leadership was read by Mrs. G. F. Stevenson of Bay St. Louis.

Father A. J. Gmelch spoke interestingly on the manner in which Holy Communion was given in the first days of the church when one of the requirements were that all communicants were required to leave the church at the time of the Mass when Holy Communion was received by the faithful.

Father Gmelch also reminded the ladies present of the two programs given each week over radio station WGCM at Gulfport when Catholic priests from the different Coast parishes conduct interesting programs at 3:15 to 3:30 on each Wednesday and Sunday afternoon and urged them to send in their questions which will be answered on these programs.

After the meeting the Bay St. Louis ladies served refreshments of cake and hot chocolate and enjoyed a pleasant get together.

LOCAL CHARITY ACTIVE

Saint Margaret's Daughters Hold Meeting and Review Work Accomplished.

At the first meeting of the new year of St. Margaret's Daughters held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. Y. Blazie, president, reports on the charity for the month of December were read revealing outstanding work accomplished in the community.

One report revealed the purchase of two tanks of oxygen and various medicines provided for indigent patients at the local King's Daughters Hospital and clothing for adults and infants provided.

It was also reported that twenty baskets filled with a chicken, spaghetti, vegetables and fruits in each had been distributed by the organization as their Christmas charity to needy persons and serving as Christmas dinners in homes where there would not have been food on this day.

A report was also read showing that five children, orphans in D'Evereaux Hall and St. Mary's Orphanage at Natchez, had received individual gift boxes containing warm clothing, toys, cakes and candies collected through the efforts of the National Council of Catholic Women of which St. Margaret's Daughters is an affiliation, and a donation of $5 in cash had been made to Brother Peter's Christmas tree.

A report from the Lunch Room Committee showed that during December eleven hundred meals had been served to school children giving them a hot and well balanced meal, and the financial statement showed the lunch room being run on an excellent cash basis.

The work of St. Margaret's Daughters is outstanding and the many ways in which the organization assists the needy and the calls made upon it are so numerous and varied that everyone should be more than willing to become a member and take part in this great charity. The dues are $1.35 a year.

A check for $8.00 was presented the organization proceeds of a bingo party given on last Sunday afternoon by members of the Women's Benefit Association.

4 ORDAINED AT SEMINARY POMP MARKED OCCASION; CHAPEL CROWDED

Bishop Pontificates at Services—Local Boy Ordained—Will Sing Solemn High Mass This Sunday At St. Rose De Lima Church, 9 O'Clock.

The ancient and spiritual powers of the priesthood, the power to offer the sacrifice of the Mass for the living and the dead, were conferred upon four young Negro seminarians at St. Augustine Seminary chapel, Bay St. Louis, Miss., Monday January 6 in one of the most magnificent and impressive rituals of the Catholic Church.

As a crowd of more than 800 relatives, friends and members of the clergy looked on, the seminarians, members of the Society of the Divine Word, the fourth class of St. Augustine Seminary in 6 years, were ordained priests by the Most Reverend Richard O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, Miss.

Ordination ceremonies at St. Augustine Seminary, at which Bishop Gerow officiated, assisted by the Very Reverend Joseph Eckert, S. V. D., Provincial of the Southern Province, archdeacon, the Rev. Lawrence Friedel, S. V. D., and Rev. Lawrence Dudink, S. V. D., master of ceremonies, the Rev. John Kemper, S. V. D., and Christian Baker, S. V. D., deacon and subdeacon respectively, opened with a solemn procession of attending priests, the bishop and the four seminarians, clothed in white vestments with crossed white stoles, chasubles over their arms and bearing lighted candles.

Following the vesting of the bishop upon reaching the altar, recommendations of the candidates for the priesthood were read and instructions were given the seminarians as to their forthcoming duties. The climax of the ceremonies was reached during the singing of the litany when the four deacons prostrated themselves at the foot of the altar as a sign of their unworthiness and need of divine assistance.

After the singing of the litany each of the deacons knelt before the bishop and received his blessing. Stoles were brought over the shoulders and crossed over the breast of each by the bishop, who then placed each with of stables following the deacons, the candidates approached and knelt before the bishop, who then laid hands, saying, "Vouchsafe, O Lord, to consecrate and sanctify these boys by the imposition and anointing of the Holy Spirit, that they may be able to perform the duties of the priesthood with purity of heart and mind, and with a clear conscience, and with a firm faith, and with a true love of God and neighbor, and with a true love of the Church, and with a true love of the world, and with a true love of the human race, and with a true love of the Kingdom of God on earth, and with a true love of the Kingdom of God in heaven, Amen."

On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock the newly ordained priests celebrated their first Mass simultaneously in the Seminary chapel, where the Mass the Right Reverend Chaplain

SCHOOL TO HAVE 3RD STORY

W. P. A. Project Grants Request For Additional Story Atop Central School.

City Superintendent S. J. Ingram, City Commissioner Grady Perkins, accompanied by Contractor John Buehler, were in Jackson during the early part of the week in the interest of procuring additional aid for the construction of a third story on part of the Central School building, now nearing completion.

The officials appeared before the WPA state department and were granted what they went after. The third story will be built over the south wing of the new building and will be used as a music hall, for instruction and as well for practice purpose. In addition to the music hall there will be a sound proof department for practice in order to not conflict or annoy study and recreation in the school building proper.

This week, Commissioner Grady Perkins said, will be entirely financed by federal funds, the W. P. A., and no money whatever will be expected from the city. In other words, there will be no funds or amounts to match as heretofore.

Just how soon work will begin was not definitely stated, but it is understood operations will be set in motion as early as possible. The present eight-room annex to the building is fast approaching completion.

OUR EXPORTS OF PLANES.

THERE is considerable interest in the number of planes that the United States is sending to Great Britain. Many people have the idea that we are shipping large numbers of aircraft to aid the British in their fight. For this reason, it might be interesting to give some of the figures relating to the total exports of planes and their engines from the United States.

Before the European War broke out in September, 1939, the United States exported 135 planes and 169 engines per month, on the average, for the six months preceding the outbreak of hostilities.

In September, 1939, we sold 62 planes and engines; in October, 43 planes and 57 engines; in November, 62 planes and 143 engines and in December, after the revision of our Neutrality Act, 294 planes and 382 engines.

The figures for the first ten months of 1940 follow:

	Planes	Engines
January	206	364
February	170	285
March	191	290
April	233	358
May	295	397
June	372	514
July	338	437
August	383	451
September	284	441
October	334	648

The reader should understand that the figures shown do not represent the assistance given to the British because the statistics cover our total exports. To illustrate this, in October, 1940, our total exports were 334 planes but British countries got only 280. Out of 648 engines, the British got only 544.

DO WE STARVE OUR MINDS?

H. G. WELLS, the British historian, praises the methods of disseminating information in the United States and declares that this country has a population "eager to learn and greedy to know."

After this compliment, Mr. Wells raises the question whether we are not "sometimes a little too hasty to know?" By this he means that, as a people, we do not study thoroughly, preferring to read digests instead of assimilating a book, cover to cover.

There is some point to the observation made by this visiting British author. There is undoubtedly a tendency on the part of most of us, to skim through a book in a search for startling, shocking and surprising information instead of soberly seeking to understand the author's argument and then test the conclusions presented by timely thinking on our own part.

TOO WELL KNOWN TO ADVERTISE.

EVERY once in a while we run across the argument that Bay St. Louis business concerns do not need advertising in the local newspaper because "everybody knows about their businesses."

This is an idea that no argument can erase from the mind of a business man who has convinced himself that he is too well-known to need advertising to remind people of what he has to sell.

Few business men here, however, will imagine that they are better known than Coca-Cola, which has spent $100,000,000 in advertising in the past fifty years. If advertising a drink, already well-known, is worth two millions a year, it might be profitable for "well-known" local concerns to seriously consider advertising as a sales-builder for their own operations.

SOLDIERS MUST LEARN ENGLISH.

AN important step in hemisphere defense is reported from Ecuador where the Ministry of Defense has decreed that members of both military and naval forces must learn English and devote at least two hours a week to instruction in the language.

This is interesting because it may be the forerunner of a general effort to pave the way so far as speech is concerned, for the cooperation of defense units of the Western Hemisphere. Ecuador will soon receive military and naval missions from the United States to serve as technical advisers to the army and navy. Naturally, it will be better if her soldiers and sailors speak English but we wonder how much they expect to learn in "two hours a week."

THE GERMAN IDEA.

WELL we see by the news that German officials now declare that the English channel will protect the British only so long as Der Fuehrer permits it.

In other words, the Germans pretend that the narrow channel is worth no more to the British than the Maginot line was to France. The lessons that have been taught the Italians by British sea-power in the Mediterranean seem to be ignored in Berlin.

Every man, woman and child should continue to study throughout life; there is no saturation point of knowledge.

In the people of the United States have learned anything from the past twenty years, they should have a two-ocean navy and keep it up to date.

SENATOR HARRISON'S LIFE INSPIRATIONAL.

NO Mississippi and Mississippians this week has fallen a great honor. One of its native sons, once a newsboy on the streets of Crystal Springs, is elected to sit on the throne in the United States Senate—to sit in the absence of the Vice President of the United States while the Senate is in session.

To Senator Pat Harrison, the newsboy, then the student, later the school teacher, then Congressman until he became United States Senator, chairman of the powerful finance committee, has fallen this honor.

Our own beloved Pat has traveled a long distance, from a mere barefoot newsboy to the high ranking office that has come to him, it can truly be said he has earned it all and the honor that has come to him is both fitting and deserving.

Senator Harrison's career is one of interest and should serve as an example to every boy in America. In this great democracy of ours, unlike countries of the totalitarians, every boy has a chance. It is up to him. The story of Senator Pat Harrison's career, should prove inspirational to the youth of America.

GOV. JOHNSON'S GOOD INTENTION.

GOV. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi a few days ago issued a formal statement that he proposed to reduce the operating expenses of the State by practically half of the present cost. He said there was too much duplication, too many bureaus and too many employees and that it would be an easy matter to cut down cost.

This is an unusual and an astounding statement and while it might sound like music to the tax-payers it will not be well received by the masses that feed at the public crib.

It is hard to conceive how this can be accomplished. The governor must have an Aladdin lamp or must by some hidden or magic power make changes. It will require no end of legislation. In fact, it would require an entirely new legislative set-up.

Our honest opinion is, that while the Governor means well and is no doubt going to make the effort, it just can't be done. The public seldom elects a man who runs on a ticket of retrenchment. The masses generally elect a man who will spend of the public funds freely. For, after all, it is only the few who pay the bulk of taxes and they, in the silent minority, have little or no voice nor choice.

LET'S TAKE A PEEP AT HOME.

WHILE the State of Louisiana repealed its sales tax on January 1st, City of New Orleans imposed a separate similar tax of 2 per cent. As a result much dissension has resulted and a fight thru the courts is on.

In addition thereto thousands of petitions numerously signed are in circulation, asking the Governor of the State to call a special election for the recall of the mayor and his commissioners, who are charged with incompetence and unfitness to satisfactorily discharge the business of the city.

There is every belief the petitions will carry more than sufficient names to call the election for recall; that the voters will be successful in their quest and that the mayor and his commissioners will be ousted.

There seems to be no limit to the extent of taxation. Each year our taxes are mounting while our revenues decrease. The people and press of New Orleans are up in arms over the matter and it appears they are going to do something about it.

It seems about high time that somebody's hand be called in this matter of increasing taxes. Taxing bodies appear to tax at will. And it seems that the people, the ones who always pay, and finally lose their all, are about to call a halt.

We talk about dictatorship in Europe? Better take a peep at home first.

EXPECT ATTACK WITHIN SIX WEEKS.

WHILE the American people engage in a debate over methods to assist the British, we should not forget that most experts are looking for a German attempt to invade England within the next few weeks and that what we send the British before the attack is about all that will count.

W. L. White, writing from London for The North American Newspaper Alliance, says that Nazi tactics in the air indicate that the real purpose of the flights may be to train German pilots to find key objectives and to familiarize them with night-flying. He says that the small amount of actual military and industrial damage and the use of not more than one-half or one-third of Germany's available planes supports this belief.

According to Mr. White, neutral correspondents in London think there is better than a forty per cent chance that the Germans will attempt an invasion within the next six weeks and that the Germans will have less than a forty per cent chance of succeeding. While an attempted invasion will inflict heavy damage upon Britain, he believes that an unsuccessful attempt will mean the loss of the flower of Germany's highly trained manpower and may be the turning point of the war.

GOOD LUCK TO CONNIE MACK!

NOW that Connie Mack, 78-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, has acquired financial control of his club, we might as well get set for the New Year by wishing the old man the joy of getting together another pennant-winning aggregation.

It has been a few years since he broke up his world's championship combination and it's time for his fortunes to take another turn. It may be a rather rapid prediction to award him a pennant in 1941, and we can't quite ask our reputation as a prophet, but we trust he will have a good season in his fifty-seventh year in baseball.

In a few years, maybe, he will come along with a championship team—anyway millions of Americans hope so!

Congressional Sidelights

Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

SEVENTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS

The new, or 77th Congress convened on Friday, January 3rd, at high noon, the new Congress convening on the heels of the old, which died a natural death without even the formality of a sine die adjournment, promises to equal the old one in length of service. The day was largely given over to organization of the two branches of the Congress. In the House Speaker Rayburn was re-elected Speaker and Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts was re-elected Majority Leader. In the Senate Mississippi's own distinguished senator, Senator Pat Harrison, was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate to succeed the late Key Pittman of Nevada (incidentally, also a former Mississippian). Senator Barkley of Kentucky was re-elected Majority Leader.

President's Message
After organizing the Congress adjourned until Monday January 6th, to await the President's message upon the State of the Union. As this is written it is not known definitely what the President will say in his message, but it is believed that in addition to discussing the world situation and the necessity for further assistance to Great Britain, his message will go into some detail about the budget. It is expected that the President will discuss the following:

1. Detailed picture and revision of the estimated spending figures for the current fiscal year.
2. The President's first estimate for the 1942 fiscal period.
3. Outline the President's decision as to what additional taxes should be enacted by Congress.
4. Will probably call for at least a six billion dollar increase in the national defense program for additional bombing planes, for air bases and for selective service costs.

Another Registration Day

Approximately 1,300,000 young men will become of age in 1941. Under present law they are not required to register as they become of age, but they will register on a date yet to be determined, and have numbers selected by lottery. District changes in the Selective Training and Service Act are being studied.

Smoking Influences Banned in Army
Mr. Stimson, Secretary of War has selected a committee which will attempt to curb smoking influences in the Army's pantomime. This group will be expected to see that the new citizen-soldier gets plenty of wholesome recreation, such as movies and other diversions which the Army considers essential to what it describes as "high morale." The sale of intoxicating beverages at Army posts is not allowed. Social life will be provided and further educational opportunities will be offered those who desire them.

Stiffer Taxes

Congress will do a great deal of talking about a stiffer federal income tax and excess profits tax structure, but it will at least wait for the March 15 tax returns before seriously tackling the problem of new tax legislation. This means that it will be at least May possibly even later, before the precise character of the 1941 tax changes will be known. However, it is believed that the increased revenue as the result of the last year tax bill will be beyond all expectations, when that bill was passed. The Excess Profits Tax, due to the enormous taxes that the war industries will have to pay will add billions to the Treasury. This is one way that the Congress has wisely provided to prevent the manufacturers engaged in the manufacturing of war materials from accumulating millions as they did in the World War days.

Boston College Touch-Down Scorers Name Girl Twins of McKeever.

A press telegram from Boston says that Assistant Coach Ed McKeever of the Boston College football team wanted that victory over Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl—so much so that he made a rash promise.

Learning while at Bay St. Louis on the Mississippi Coast that he had become the father of girl twins he announced that the players scoring the first two touchdowns against the Vols could have the honor of choosing the girls' names.

Only—he forgot to tell Mrs. McKeever.

Mickey Connolly and Mike Holovak, the scorers, decided on the way home that Ann and Helen would be nice.

Then, as the train neared Boston, it was learned that Mrs. McKeever already had named them Jane and Susan.

But she didn't want to disappoint the boys. So the twins will be known as Jane Ann and Susan Helen.

Young Bay St. Louis Student Reviews One Of Current Novels

OWEN Crawford, Jr., attending college at Nashville, Tenn., home for the holidays, received high mark in his review of a book "The White Isle," which incidentally is written by his relative, Mrs. Caroline Dale Snedeker, spending the winter in Bay St. Louis. The review is noted for its conciseness, telling the gist of the story of a volume in so short a space and covering the subject amply. Professors at the college compared it with professional book reviews. It follows:

"The White Isle"

The setting in the opening of the story "The White Isle," is in Rome during the rule of Hadrian.

The Claudian family has been exiled from Rome because the father, Faronius Claudius, was openly opposed to the Hadrian rule. Lavinia, the character that the theme of the story revolves around, is youngest child and only daughter of the Claudian family. She is merely thirteen years old yet betrothed to a Roman youth, Decimus. Her father chose this young man for his standing and hoped through his influence someday to be reinstated to his former position in Rome. On the wedding day Decimus was found to have run away because of his dislike for Lavinia. Hence she accompanied her family to Britain.

The story tells of the journey and then the final landing and life in Britain and how their hate finally turned to love for the new land. On one venture in Britain Lavinia and her mother are captured by bandits. While the bandits were taking them to their camp, they were intercepted by a band of men who overthrew them and rescued the party. While Lavinia and her mother lived with them they were converted by these people, who were Christians. Lavinia fell in love with and married the leader, Gowan. The climax of the story tells of the fall of heathen worship and the beginning of Christianity.

Preceding the review young Mr. Crawford gives this preface, telling the story of the author of the book and is of double interest since Mrs. Snedeker is well and widely known locally:

The name of the book is "The White Isle." It is an historical novel. There are 211 pages. The scene of "The White Isle" is first in Rome, during the rule of Hadrian. It tells of the Claudian family in Rome and their journey to and life in Britain.

The author's name is Caroline Dale Snedeker. She was born in New Harmony, Indiana in 1870. She was educated in the schools of Cincinnati and attended the conservatory of Music there, graduating with highest honors. She was a concert pianist and lecturer. She is recognized as a standard writer and an authority on early Greek and Roman history. Several encyclopedias carry her writings on these two subjects. Mrs. Snedeker is the widow of the late Charles H. Snedeker, former dean of the cathedral in Cincinnati. "The White Isle" is her eleventh book and is hailed by her publishers as her best. Some of her other books are "Uncharted Ways," "The Sparitan," "The Perilous Quest," and "The Forgotten Daughter." She now resides on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Fine For Using Old Auto Tags Ten Dollars.

State highway patrolmen have issued a terse warning to motorists who are still using 1940 automobile tags, now several months delinquent, and stated that a minimum fine of $10.00 would be imposed on operators arrested and charged with the act. They pointed out that owners found guilty of this practice would also be faced with the purchase of a new tag plus 25 per cent penalty, plus court costs. The minimum fine for operating a car or other vehicle without a driver's license is $5, they added in announcing that a drive on delinquent permits was also underway.

Hollywood Echoes.

MICKEY Rooney is the leading money-maker among the movie stars of Hollywood for 1940, according to the Motion Picture Herald, a trade publication. He is followed in order by Spencer Tracy, Clark Gable, Gene Autry, Tyrone Power, James Cagney, Bing Crosby, Wallace Beery, Bette Davis and Judy Garland.

And, speaking of polls, we might mention that one film reviewer lists as his selection of the ten best films of 1940 the following: "The Grapes of Wrath," "The Baker's Wife" (French film), "Rebecca," "Our Town," "The Mortal Storm," "Pride and Prejudice," "The Great McGinty," "The Long Voyage Home," "The Great Dictator," and "Fantasia." You might not agree entirely with him, but every one of these films was excellent.

Lionel Barrymore is a very versatile man. Besides being an excellent actor, he is an accomplished artist and also a musician. In fact, so delighted was he when he heard a WPA symphony orchestra play one of his musical compositions for the first time that he immediately set himself to the task of completing another symphony he had started some time ago.

When "The Trial of Mary Dugan" is remade by MGM, it will be unrecognizable. The importance of many of the roles is being shifted, the locale changed from New York to Los Angeles, the trial is being subdued and the title will be changed to something else.

Robert Young and Laraine Day will be teamed by MGM soon. Officials were so tickled with them in their recent appearance as brother and sister in their last Dr. Kildare movie that they decided to make a romantic team of them.

So intent were Jack Benny and Fred Allen in stealing scenes from each other in "Love Try Neighbor," that they didn't notice that Mary Martin was stealing the show.

Those beautiful snow flakes that you see falling in the movies are just unostentatious corn flakes, which are kept as clean as possible, swept up and used over and over again.

Vivien Leigh and Lawrence Olivier sailed recently for England where they intend to remain for the duration.

The call letters, KMASB have been granted to Robert Taylor for his private airplane by the Federal Communications Commission. The last three letters stand for the initials of Taylor's real name—Arlington Spangler Brough.

Fred Astaire lost so much weight during the filming of his recent picture "Second Chorus," that the doctors have ordered him on a complete rest.

"THE MARK OF ZORRO" HARRISON COUNTY TO SHOW AT A. G. THEATER, SUN-MON. T. P. PROVIDER RACE

Tyrone Power Has Lead in This Dashing Role of Adventure—His Sword Makes Its Mark.

"The Mark of Zorro," that dashing romance of silent films some twenty years ago when Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. made a hit that carved out for him an enduring name, has been refilmed in new arrangement and with the talkie feature. It has been created anew and critics who saw both like the new better.

Not disparaging Fairbanks, Sr., but the new role as enacted by young Tyrone Power makes it a picture one will not forget and surely no one will want to miss it.

His sword left its mark where ever he visited. Daring and dangerous he always managed to escape. He used his sword for good like Robin Hood in his perilous adventures. The jagged mark of his sword struck terror to every heart—but one.

The cast is composed of Linda Darnell, Basil Rathbone, Gale Sondergaard, Eugene Pallette, and the beloved padre, Chris Pin Martin. Montagu Love, Janet Beecher and others.

The Mark of Zorro is dashing in romance and doing and Tyrone Power is equal to every one of the thousands of impulses.

To be presented Sunday and Monday evenings at the A. & G. Theater, Bay St. Louis.

A Year of Accomplishments

The year just ended was a record year of general telephone expansion in the South. Millions were spent to expand local and long distance facilities and other millions were expended for preparedness projects. At the same time, the numerous and varied government and industrial emergency needs were filled promptly.

Nearly 300,000 new telephones were installed and about 180,000 taken out, making a net gain for the year of more than 110,000. Sixty-eight new central offices were built and put into service. Twelve of these were new exchanges while fifty-six replaced manually operated offices with the newest type dial equipment. Rural sections also shared liberally in this program.

The gross expenditures for new construction and replacements exceeded $40,000,000.

It was a year of outstanding accomplishments achieved under exceptional conditions. The thousands of telephone men and women responsible for this work are justly proud of the results. They begin the new year confident in their ability to meet the future telephone requirements of this fast growing section of the nation.
